

Ask Me About...

With the half term break next week, it has been wonderful to reflect on the progress that the children have made this half term. They have all been superstars and deserve the break...we hope you have a lovely time together!

It has been a busy week; the children have been fully immersed in our Space Explorers topic. The story we have been reading together is The Marvellous Moon Map. It is one of our favourites, rich with vocabulary and illustrations that inspire the children.

Have a look at the link together. There is also chance to participate in 'draw along' with the illustrator, this is something that your child could do over the half term, we would love to see their masterpieces...
